How to sync vizio sound bar

×Sorry to interruptCSS Error 1 Unpack your Vizio soundbar. Take your sound bar out of its original packaging, and make sure you have all the cables, screws, mounts, and manuals in the package. 2 Remove the protective plastic cover on each end of your SPDIF cable. This will allow you to safely plug the cable into your TV and your soundbar. SPDIF cables are also called Toslink or fiber-optic cables. Make sure you have the right cable for your connection type here. Advertisement 3 Connect one end of the cable to the "OPTICAL" port on the back of your TV. There are usually plastic doors covering the optical port to keep the dust out. Make sure the cable snaps in firmly and connected. 4 Connect the other end of the cable to the "OPTICAL" port your soundbar. This should be the same port as the one on the back of your TV. 5 Make sure your soundbar is powered on. Connect your soundbar to a power outlet with the power cable, and press the Power button to turn it on. 6 Select the correct input method with your soundbar remote. Press the Input button on the soundbar remote, and use the arrow keys to select Optical, Toslink, or SPDIF. 7 Press the menu key on your soundbar remote. This will open the VIZIO menu on your TV screen. 8 Select Audio on the menu. This will open your soundbar's audio settings. 9 Toggle the TV Speakers setting to Off. Select the TV Speakers option with your remote, and use the arrow keys on the remote to toggle it off. This will prevent echo effect from multiple sound sources. 10 Change the Digital Audio Out setting to Bitstream or Dolby Digital. Select this option on the Audio menu, and use the arrow keys on the remote to switch it to a different setting. Advertisement 1 Unpack your Vizio soundbar. Take your sound bar out of its original packaging, and make sure you have all the cables, screws, mounts, and manuals in the package. 2 Find the red-and-white RCA audio cable. You can use this cable to set up an analog sound connection. 3 Find the "AUDIO OUT" port on the back of your TV. This port should feature two red and white connectors labeled Audio Out on your TV. 4 Connect the red and white cables to the respective ports on your TV. Make sure the red end of your RCA cable is plugged into the red port, and the white end into the white. 5 Connect the other end of the cable to the red-and-white "AUDIO IN" or "AUX" connection on your soundbar. This should establish an analog sound connection between your TV and your soundbar. 6 Make sure your soundbar is powered on. Connect your soundbar to a power outlet with the power cable, and press the Power button to turn it on. 7 Select "AUX" as your input method with your soundbar remote. Press the Input button on the soundbar remote, and use the arrow keys to select AUX. 8 Press the menu key on your soundbar remote. This will open the VIZIO menu on your TV screen. 9 Select Audio on the menu. This will open your soundbar's audio settings. 10 Toggle the TV Speakers setting to Off. Select the TV Speakers option with your remote, and use the arrow keys on the remote to toggle it off. This will prevent echo effect from multiple sound sources. 11 Change the Analog Audio Out setting to Fixed or Variable. You can switch between these two settings depending on your personal preference. If you select Variable, the volume on your soundbar will automatically go up and down when you adjust your TV volume. If you select Fixed, your soundbar volume will be controlled by your soundbar itself. Advertisement 1 Unpack your Vizio sound bar. Take your sound bar out of its original packaging, and make sure you have all the cables, screws, mounts, and manuals in the package. 2 Connect one end of an HDMI cable to the HDMI OUT (ARC) port on your sound bar. This will allow you to set up your sound connection via HDMI. 3 Connect the other end of the cable to the HDMI 1 (ARC) port on the back of your TV. This will allow your TV to send audio signals to the sound bar via the HDMI cable. 4 Connect your sound bar to power. Connect the power cable to the Power port on the back of your sound bar, and plug the cable into a power outlet. 5 Select "HDMI" as your input method with your soundbar remote. Press the Input button on the soundbar remote, and use the arrow keys to select HDMI. Advertisement 1 Unpack your Vizio sound bar. Take your sound bar out of its original packaging, and make sure you have all the cables, screws, mounts, and manuals in the package. 2 Press and hold the Bluetooth button on the side of your soundbar. This will put your soundbar in Bluetooth pairing mode. Alternatively, you can press the Bluetooth button on your remote. If you have the VIZIO remote with the LED screen, press MENU, and find the BT Pair option in your settings. 3 Make sure your TV's Bluetooth is turned on and discoverable. You will have to use your TV's Bluetooth menu to pair it with your soundbar. 4 Select your soundbar in your smart TV's Bluetooth pairing menu. The Bluetooth pairing menu may slightly vary between different TVs, but you will usually only need to select your soundbar on your TV's Bluetooth discovery list. Whether you're listening to music, watching movies and TV shows, or gaming, a sound bar can make your entertainment better. With all the sound bars on the market, how do you find the best one for your needs? Here's a list of the best sound bars you can get, as reviewed by consumers like you. MORE FROM CONSUMERSEARCH.COM By Jeff Grundy | Justin Sullivan/Getty Images News/Getty Images Apple iPod music players let you download music from a computer and take your favorite tunes with you anywhere you go. The ear buds that ship with the iPod produce reasonably good sound but do not allow you to share your music with others. If you want to play music over your iPod and allow everyone to hear, you must connect an external speaker. A Vizio sound bar is a single-piece speaker system with an integrated amplifier usually used with televisions. However, the thin shape of a Vizio sound bar also makes it easy to carry around and use as a speaker for an iPod. Power off the iPod. Plug the Vizio sound bar AC adapter into an electrical outlet if you have not already done so. Connect one end of the 3.5mm audio cable to the headphone jack on the iPod, then connect the other end to the 3.5mm "Audio In" jack on the rear of the Vizio sound bar. Adjust the volume control on the Vizio sound bar so that you will be able to hear sound from the iPod but do not set it too loud until you start playing music from the iPod. Power on the iPod. Select a track you want to hear, then press or tap the "Play" button on the iPod to begin playing music over the Vizio sound bar. Adjust the volume on the Vizio sound bar again until the sound level is at an appropriate level.
